Grand Jury indicts Abington man In July Randolph murder

Contact: David Traub, District Attorney Keating's Office, 781-830-4800 x 217

A Norfolk County Grand Jury today (September 9, 2010) indicted Edward Aduayi for the murder of Kareneetha Sanders, age 28, whose body was discovered in Randolph in early July, District Attorney William Keating announced today.

Aduayi, DOB 11-15-53, of Abington, pled not guilty at his Quincy District Court arraignment on July 8. He is represented by attorney John Darrell.

At the district court arraignment, Norfolk Assistant District Attorney Greg Connor told the Court that Aduayi had picked up Sanders at her Randolph apartment about 1 p.m. Wednesday, July 7, and the may have begin arguing about their relationship. At some point, Connor told the court, Aduayi stabbed Sanders to death and dismembered her; her remains were found in a barrel in a commercial building on North Main Street in Randolph.

Aduayi was ordered held without bail at his district court arraignment. "No superior court arraignment date has yet been set," District Attorney Keating said. "We would anticipate scheduling that within the coming weeks, but the defendant remains held without bail in that interim."

Please note that a Grand Jury indictment is an accusation only and that the Constitutional presumption of innocence extends to this defendant.

Any and all defendants mentioned are legally innocent until proven guilty.
